DAILY BULLETIN

Wednesday, October 20, 2021 ("D" day)

Italian-Americans play a role in almost every facet of life in the United States, politics included. Fiorello LaGuardia, for whom the airport is named, became New York City's first Italian-American mayor in 1933. Angelo Rossi became the first in the nation in 1931. Their role in politics continues in modern times with the late Antonin Scalia, the first Italian-American on the Supreme Court and Nancy Pelosi, the first female and Italian-American to be elected as Speaker of the House.
